Why Seville?

Seville is the capital of the Spanish autonomous community of Andalusia and one of the largest cities in Spain. It boasts three UNESCO World Heritage Sites and has a fascinating multi-cultural history. It is also one of the oldest cities in Europe, with an innumerable list of monuments and enchanting tourist spots.

With an annual average temperature of almost 18 degrees and more than 300 sunny days, Seville is the warmest and sunniest city in Europe. It is also home to three public universities, which offer a wide selection of courses and extracurricular activities. All of these facts make studying here an interesting and gratifying experience.

Moreover, Seville is a big and important tourist center in Spain. There is something for everyone here: many landmarks, museums, parks, gardens, and restaurants catering to all tastes. It is also worth mentioning that its gastronomic offer is much more affordable than in other Spanish cities, like Barcelona or Madrid.
